Unobu

Captain's Log: While returning to the Endeavour after several weeks of leave, I detected a transmission coming from the planet Unobu. I stopped to investigate and was attacked by an unidentified ship. I don't remember what happened after that; I must have crashed. If so, I'm lucky to be alive.

Now, I find myself in what looks like a hospital. I don't recognize any of the technology here. Wherever I am, it's not an ICF facility. I've activated my emergency transponder and, with little else I can do, I'm going to have a look around.

Arrival

You detect Captain Darcy's distress call coming from an underground facility on Unobu. When you contact him, he explains that he has something that he needs to show you. He leads you to a room that contains a recovery chamber. Inside is what appears to be a second Captain Darcy.

Gichin, an emergency auto-doc enters the room. It approaches the recovery chamber without acknowledging you other than to say “Administering euthanasia serum now.”

Medical Intervention

- Will you use force to stop Gichin from killing the man in the recovery chamber? Strategy & Tactics vs. Gichin. If you suffer, you cannot stop Gichin without destroying it.
- Or will you try to stop Gichin by reasoning with it? Leadership & Negotiation vs. Gichin. Gichin is an Expert System (Leadership & Negotiation has no effect). You must mark O (Stress) to push yourself and use a different domain to effectively face this challenge.

The man in the recovery chamber awakens. He suggests that you call him Jim Darcy to help minimize confusion.

Trials

And Then There Were Two

James Darcy and Jim Darcy are nearly identical copies of one another. Both men claim to feel like they are the original Captain Darcy. Can you discover which version of Captain Darcy is the original? Science & Medicine vs. Gichin.

Second Chances

Both James Darcy and Jim Darcy are eager to return to duty. Can you help them reach an agreement regarding what each of their roles within the ICF will be going forward? Leadership & Negotiation vs. Captain Darcy.

The Sentinel

The Sentinel reappears and attacks the Endeavour. Can you repel its assault? Strategy & Tactics vs. The Sentinel. If you prevail, you gain a 1d8 advantage die on challenges to repair any damage done to the Endeavour.

Crisis

The Sentinel lashes out and punctures the Endeavour's reactor core. A reactor meltdown is imminent. Both James Darcy and Jim Darcy volunteer to enter the reactor core and use the manual override to shut it down.

- Will you send someone into the reactor to shut it down? Threats: Anyone who enters the reactor core is fatally irradiated. Gichin's clinic is destroyed by falling debris.

- Or will you find a way to avert the impending disaster without sacrificing anyone? Threats: Dozens of crew members are killed when the reactor meltdown occurs. Jim Darcy is killed in a targeted strike by The Sentinel.

Regardless of your decision, you must face the following Threat: The Endeavour is disabled and crashes on Unobu.

Characters

- Gichin (d10): Emergency Auto-Doc (d10), Relic (d10) Expert System (Leadership & Negotiation has no effect).
- Jim Darcy (d10): Captain of the Endeavour (d10), Charismatic (d10), Cunning (d8), Experienced (d8).
- The Sentinel (d10): Automated Defense Drone (d10), Relentless (d10 Grueling), Powerful (d10 Dangerous).

Places

- Gichin's Clinic: A cluster of examination and treatment rooms. Filled with unfamiliar medical equipment.
- Crash Site: A large impact crater. Mangled debris from Captain Darcy's shuttle litter the surrounding area.
- Reactor Core: The compartment that houses the Endeavour's power source. Dominated by a large sphere of exotic matter contained within a magnetic bottle.

Mysteries

- Gichin created a copy of Captain Darcy. When Captain Darcy was injured in the shuttle crash, Gichin responded and tried to save his life. Gichin created a backup copy in case it was unable to do so. What did Gichin intend to do with the backup copy if/when Captain Darcy recovered? What other marvels can Gichin perform?
- Jim Darcy is the original Captain Darcy. Jim Darcy suffered a stroke shortly after being copied by Gichin. Gichin was able to repair the resulting damage, but Jim Darcy's personality was permanently affected. How are James Darcy and Jim Darcy different? Do either of them know which is the original Captain Darcy?
